Sir,

The class was held at the Safety Harbor Spa and Resort, on April 28th, 2017. At the actual class 62 members and auxiliary members were in attendance. In addition to our regular instructors were two new members.

Almost all subject matters that I felt were of importance were conducted with the addition of two new classes, Chapter Nine and 10 Principles of Leadership, which were given on the Thursday before, on the 27th.

From a review of the student evaluation sheets, the greater majority of the replies indicated that the classes were favorable and some suggestions were offered to make the classes more improvable. The suggestions will be integrated into the Program.

A month before the classes, each instructor received his schedule and lesson plans covering their subject completely. During a meeting of the instructors, each was advised to stick to their subject field and be thoroughly knowledgeable about their subject. It appeared that several were not, and as a result several mistakes were made. I accept the blame for this error.

At the end of the session each attendee received a certificate, a disk (PDP) and a booklet containing each subject with lesson plans and instructors vital information, for contact.

Although, I wish to thank all instructors for their participation and work, I wish it to be noticed that one instructor, Scott Westervelt, went above and beyond his call to duty. Thank you again, Scott.

Respectfully submitted

William G. Cona
